1974 CHOWANOKA

Chowan College

Murfreesboro, North Carolina

*Published by School of Graphic Arts,
Chowan College*

Take time to work . . . it is the price of success.

Take time out to think . . . it is the source of power.

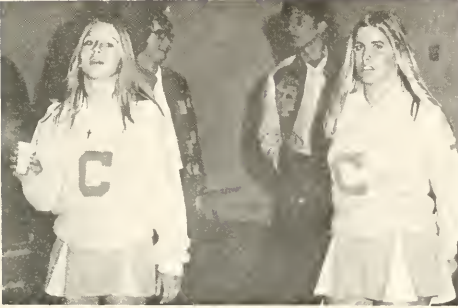

Take time to worship . . . it is the highway of reverence.

Take time to help and enjoy friends . . .

the source of happiness.

Take time to love . . . it is the one sacrament of life.

Take time to dream . . .

it hitches the soul to the stars.

End To Time

Time has passed,
And so it always does,
Leaving us still,
And astonished by it's passing.

Each section of our life is designated
for some purpose,
Some pleasure, some misery.

Every space is filled,
Even though the time escapes us,
Time has its habit of going too quickly-
Leaving us wondering where it has gone.

We have taken time out-for all of life.

Each day is new
Every moment is someones moment,
Someones ecclasy-

Some hours make up a persons lifetime
But always time is gone-
Before we realize it was even here.

Dedication

The person to whom this edition of THE CHOWANOKA is dedicated, first came to Chowan College in 1954 as a student, and quickly became active and interested in every facet of college life, and it was during these early years that the foundation was laid upon which rests his devotion and loyalty to this institution.

Since 1965, when he returned to the campus as a Professor of English, the students, faculty, and staff of Chowan College have been the benefactors from his immeasurable friendliness . . . his unselfish and faithful service . . . and his unceasing commitment to high ideals.

To one who has performed his role well and who has given generously of himself to others, it is with gratitude and appreciation that we dedicate the 1974 CHOWANOKA TO . . .

ROBERT G. MULDER, JR.

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT THE CHOWANOKA 1973-74

I appreciate the fact that the CHOWANOKA staff has given me the opportunity to extend a message to the members of the Chowan College Family through the pages of our annual.

This 126th year in the life and service of Chowan has been a good one. This has been true because the Chowan "spirit" has prevailed, including all sectors of the college community. It has been that particular year in which you as students either began or in which you continued an adventure in higher education. I hope and believe it has proved to be a beneficial experience.

The CHOWANOKA requires a great deal of time and effort on the part of the staff. It is prepared primarily by and for students. Nonetheless, it is a significant historical reference. In behalf of the members of the Chowan College community, I express appreciation and gratitude to the CHOWANOKA staff, including faculty advisers and students within the Department of Graphic Arts, for this 1973-74 annual volume.

I love this beloved institution of Christian higher education, as you do, and I know these sentiments will grow and keep us bound together as the years come and go. I cherish the people who comprise the Chowan College Family. Therefore, I urge you to keep "in touch" and support your alma mater with your best--love, prayers, influence, and financial support.

May the good Lord bless and guide you, one and all, through all the years to come.

Department of Business

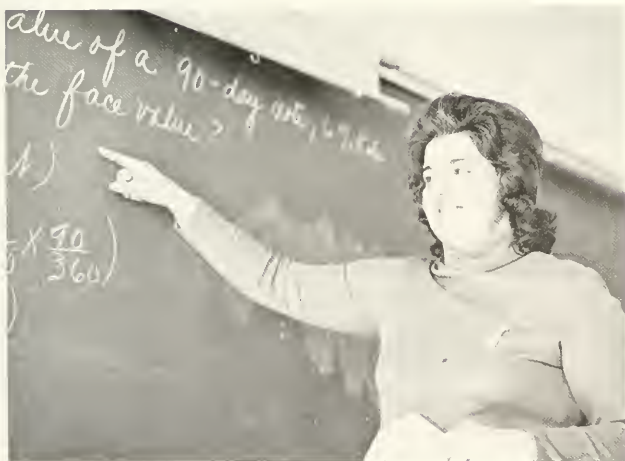

Andrea E. Eason

The basic purpose of the DEPARTMENT OF BUSINESS is to provide young men and women with the necessary specialized training for a future of self-reliance and economic opportunity. The Business Department offers many programs — a curriculum to satisfy the needs of any student interested in business. Members of the faculty within the department are vitally interested in providing thorough training for each student. We are dedicated to meet the personal needs of the individual and to provide a worthwhile program in the area of his choice.

Being the mother of two daughters, Lisa, 11, and Suzanne, 3, ANDREA E. EASON keeps busy sewing for herself and the girls. She also enjoys working in her large vegetable garden in the summer. Mrs. Eason and her husband Mack, who is an insurance agent, reside on a farm just outside of Sunbury, North Carolina. She is a native of Kansas, where her parents still live.

Through the years PATRICIA B. EDWARDS has managed to combine a career with homemaking. One complements the other. She enjoys reading, cooking, playing bridge, boating, and spending as much time as possible with her husband and three children. She also enjoys her work with college-age people very much and concurs with the title of a poem she once read "You Can't Grow Old in A College Town."

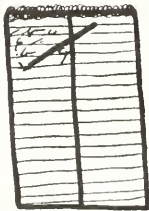

Patricia B. Edwards

Hattie R. Jones

Robert N. Jones

Sylvia Liverman

HATTIE R. JONES has been teaching at Chowan College for the past eight years. Her interests are data processing and banking. Her hobbies include being at home, music, and reading. Mr. and Mrs. Jones especially enjoy the beach and traveling.

Most of THOMAS E. RUFFIN, JR.'S energies are utilized in the performance of administrative responsibilities and teaching within the Department of Business. He spends most of his time doing church work and being with his family. Spare moments are spent in reading, farming, beaching, and in doing little deeds of kindness for his many friends.

Thomas E. Ruffin, Jr.

Dorothy A. Wallace

L. M. Wallace

Elizabeth L. Francis

Rachael N. Pittman

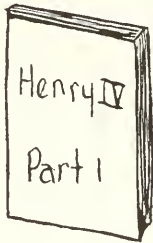

DOROTHY A. WALLACE major recreational interest is reading. The fields of English literature, history, and philosophy has been a source of enjoyment through the years, but she also reads science fiction and romantic novels. In her spare time she writes poetry, which ranges all the way from children's poetry to contemplative questions about life in outer space. Travel and attending plays and concerts are always a source of interest and delight. She also serves as the financial secretary and assistant Sunday School teacher at Woodland Baptist Church, Woodland N.C.

Excluding those interests connected with Chowan College, MR. L. M. WALLACE'S interests are church and community affairs, the stock market, and politics. Reading, traveling, collecting music boxes, and listening to good music are his major hobbies. He enjoys working at Chowan and living in Woodland, North Carolina, a small town ten miles south of Murfreesboro on Highway 258.

The primary activities of ELIZABETH L. FRANCIS center around her husband and three sons. Music, art, and politics keep her interested and involved, although travel remains her favorite hobby. Mrs. Francis also loves teaching girls in the Nancy Taylor personal development courses.

Department Of English

Betty N. Batchelor

Undine W. Barnhill

Ann S. Emery

Anna Belle Crouch

The English Department has as its province written communication and literature. The problems of syntax, diction and logic approached in composition courses have but one purpose: effective language, the means of thought. Drama, poetry and fiction, studied in English and American literature courses, have but one end: an understanding of that social, intellectual, and spiritual mystery, LIFE.

UNDINE W. BARNHILL has taught English at Chowan College for nine years. Her hobbies are painting, doing fancy sewing and knitting, and gardening. She likes to travel and has been abroad many times. Mrs. Barnhill is active in church work, having taught a Sunday School class for several years. She is very interested in young people, especially students at Chowan.

BETTY N. BATCHELOR has been at Chowan College since 1961 teaching English, Spanish, and reading. She has three sons — David, a freshman at Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Paul, a high school sophomore; and Johathan, a sixth-grader. In her "spare" time she sings in the choir at the Murfreesboro Baptist Church, participates in a Mission Action Group and in the Melrose Woman's Club. She is also involved in the activities of the Faculty Women and Wives' Club. She has taken part in all the faculty plays presented at Chowan since she came here twelve years ago. She serves as advisor to the Day Students' Organization.

This is ANNA BELLE CROUCH'S sixteenth year at Chowan College. She came to be Assistant Dean of Women, professor of music and women's physical education. Other teaching opportunities have included being professor of religion, hygiene, one of the innovators of the Nancy Taylor self-improvement course and instructor, business and church secretarial advisor. She is now professor of speech. Her activities include having been modeling director of the Miss Roanoke-Chowan Beauty Pageant for 12 years, teaching, speaking, singing, cooking, sewing, reading, directing choirs, working with people in church, school, community, state, country, and around the world. Her greatest desire is to help others to know the joy of knowing Christ.

Department Of Fine Arts

Robert W. Brown

The DEPARTMENT OF FINE ARTS strives to provide for the student who elects the Arts as a vocation a thorough grounding in the theory, literature, and the practice of his chosen field. This purpose is achieved, in large measure, through small classes and a day-to-day personal student-teacher relationship. The department also strives to provide for the general student the necessary courses and opportunities which will enable him to acquire or to enlarge upon an interest in the Arts. Many activities are provided by the Department to further enrich the artistic life of both the fine arts and general student, as well as the community — performing groups in music, drama and dance, concerts by faculty and students as well as outside artists, exhibitions in the visual arts, trips to major art galleries, and numerous workshops in the arts.

ROBERT CARTER is the teacher of numerous piano students who are college and university faculty members. Many are studying in Europe and have performed with orchestras as well as solo performances.

JAMES W. CHAMBLEE enjoys all aspects of music, including most pop. He has an avid interest in electronics, especially tape recording, and is an amateur fix-it man around the house. During the spring semester, they concentrated their activities on "Look Us Over Days" and "Spring Festival". When Coach Jim Garrison was asked about this season, he stated, "The 1973 Football Team was somewhat of a disappointment finishing with a 5-5 slate. Chowan was ahead in every ballgame, except the Ferrum game, only to fall behind in the late going in several of the games. The failure to come up with consistent play was a major factor in most of the losses. Penalties also proved to be one of Chowan's biggest foes on several occasions."

Chowan's Soccer Team

The Chowan Soccer Team is a newly formed team this year. Coached by Mrs. Ann Alexander the international players on the team are from Venezuela, Iran, Korea, Africa, and a few Americans. Having scored very well in their first three meets, Chowan has become a member of a winter league in Tidewater, Virginia. The team has gained great respect and it hopes to become very active on campus. The team has picked as their nickname, the 'Winged Warriors'.

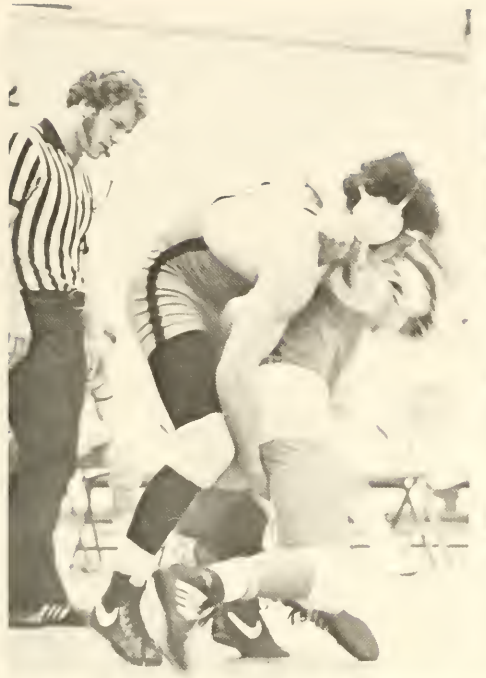

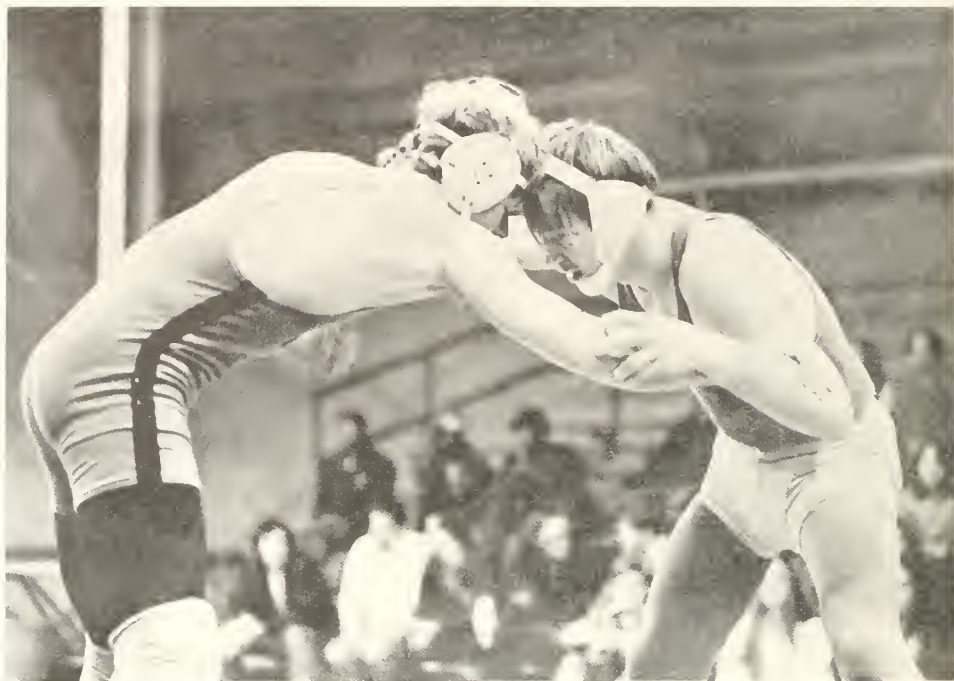

The Chowan Wrestlers

The Chowan Brave grapplers, beginning the school's third year in the sport, opened practice October 8 with approximately fifteen wrestlers. The squad counted just four lettermen among the sparse turnout. First year coach, Bill McCraw put together a team consisting of Dude Moxeley (118 lbs); Steve Hoppe (126); Lloyd Lee (134); Dickie Troy (142); Gary Waters (150); James Simmons (158); Tim Conrad (167); Ed Miller (177); Jay Kirby (190); and David Joyce (unlimited). Backing these were William Joines and Bucky Glover although there were several others who were a part of the program for a while but withdrew.

The Braves closed a 1-4 campaign with hopes of developing the schedule and quality of wrestling. Coach McCraw, in reflecting over the season, pointed to the excellent work of Steve Hoppe and Ed Miller. "Both those boys lost only one match apiece against some very good senior college people. But I admired the effort of all our wrestlers who stuck it out even after we were reduced to a mere shadow of a team. I would have liked to have wrestled our whole schedule with the squad we had at the start. Chowan would have made quite an impression on the big people around the state. In fact, I challenge the many others at Chowan who didn't come out, to be a part of next year's team."

Last Words . . .

Another year has gone by and it's time to say farewell for three months or a lifetime.

I hope this year's annual will remain in everyone's heart as a book of memories for the year 1973-1974.

Many long hours have gone into preparing this book and at times it wasn't easy. Some people think an editor's job is just supervising everyone else, but it is more of a challenge than that.

The yearbook staff has done an excellent job in designing their particular sections. Without them, there would be no yearbook. At times I realized you were pressed when deadline time came, but I knew you could do it. The students who wrote the poems included in this annual added a part of the student body. I hope you will think of this annual as part of your annual, too. A college annual should be a product of most of the student body.

Personally, I would like to thank Jacki Porch for the artwork included in this annual. I realize it meant staying up till midnight one night to meet a deadline. All of your hard work is greatly appreciated.

I would like to show my appreciation to those faculty and administration personnel who obliged their personal sketches for use in the book. I felt this would add a different kind of touch to the yearbook. I think we should know more about the people we work with, other than just their names.

The Graphic Arts Department published this annual and they are owed more thanks than could ever be expressed. I think the printing job is excellent and you know how much you are appreciated.

To my closer friends, I want to show my appreciation for the confidence shown to me. Without you, I might never have made it. When the going was rough, you were always there with support.

As editor, I have enjoyed this year, and I hope all of you will enjoy the 1974 CHOWANOKA.

Pattie Embrey

*After passing through these doors
The ones I've been through so many times before
At times they felt closed to me
And I wondered if I could ever be free
But now all the doors are open
And I know it is time they be closed
This time I know,
As I pass through them
The hallways to my memories will have no end.
There is a time you must take time to be pleased,
to walk on, to say good-bye,
a time to remember the past and
be hopeful for the future.*
